

Due to the recent survey, and wanting to build the Association into a larger source for all members for sources of information we are proud to announce our newest site TechSupportQA.com

"Technical Support and Questions & Answers". Unlike your typical forums, this site is simply for "Questions & Answers", no small talk, no chit-chat. The added benefit is you can provide "Video & Audio" to it vice just text.

The site is TechSupportQA.com and stands for "Technical Support Questions & Answers". Unlike other sites that are your typical Q&A sites there is "NO" fee for this site. You gain points for each question, each answer and "best" answer. There are a lot of techs out there with great knowledge and enjoy sharing with others. This site rewards you for that.

TechSupportQA:

Question/Answer

Video & Audio

Ratings System

SEO Optimized

Customization

Facebook/Twitter Integration

Feel free to sign up and start "Asking" and "Answering" questions. All ACRBO members will get an added 300 points to their account when signed up. Just let us know you've signed up in order to have the points added to your account.